Helping put the pieces back together

Thursday, 4th May 2023

To Whom It May Concern,

I hope that you are well. My name is Macklin, Business Development and Communications Manager at Jigsaw4u, a charity that helps children, young people, and families facing complex social and emotional difficulties across South West London by helping them to put the pieces back together.

We provide specialist support to our service-users going through bereavement, depression and anxiety, child exploitation and much more. If you would like to learn more about us, our annual review is attached to the email Michael has sent you. The review showcases our work, history and achievements to date.

We are reaching out to ask for your help for a fundraising event organised by Givers Gain, our Business Partner, to support our vital work. They will be hosting their 9th Annual Charity Golf Day, and we're hoping to secure raffle prizes for the day. Even a small prize can make a big difference for our service-users, as 75% of our income goes directly towards helping them. We'll also promote your contributions on social media if you'd like.

Can you possibly help us out with providing any prizes? Please let Michael or myself know.

Best wishes and take care,

Macklin Doherty
